Testimonials from Youth I have worked with as a Career Coach:

Many Scholarship applications ask for an essay titled "Describe how a person has inspired you". Below are two from students that I have worked with.

- ✚ Throughout life I have been inspired by many people and projects. Motivation for me has always been stimulated by surrounding myself with productive individuals who strive for the same goal I'm seeking. One person in particular has reached out a comforting hand to assist me with my journey of becoming a strong leader for my community peers and helping me develop into a more prolific human being. Jackie Jacobi, my career coach and good friend, is an exceptional woman. She has been named the 2007 Woman of the Year by the Duncan Chamber of Commerce. She has helped me overcome fears and aided my capability of embracing my strengths to defeat failure in my life. --- Abby, 2007
- ✚ Being involved in my school and community since a young age I have met many adults and youth throughout the years who are very motivational and encouraging, whether it be a school teacher, a 4-H extension educator, or a friend I have made. But above all, one person has stood out over the rest, Mrs. Jackie Jacobi. Jackie organized several leadership training workshops two years ago that I attended. Little did I know, I would soon meet the person who would change me and shape me into a better person for the rest of my life. Since I met her, she has inspired me to be my very best. Jackie has become a very close friend of mine and is always there when I need help on anything. She has believed in me and motivated me in everything I do. Jackie's amazing leadership skills have helped me sharpen my leadership skills and have pushed me to become a very involved youth in my community and county. Harvard studies have shown that happiness may be contagious. When you surround yourself with positive, happy people you become a happier person. This is exactly what Jackie has done for me. She has increased my positive outlook on life and made me an optimistic person. The faith she has in me is like that of none other. My personality is one that if someone has faith in me and truly believes in me I work that much harder to achieve my goal. Throughout these past two years Jackie has pushed me to be my personal best. She has inspired me to do all I can and has given me the strength to get past any obstacle that may come my way in the future. -- Courtney, 2008
